THE HEBREW UNIVERSITY OF JERUSALEM THE ISRAEL INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDIES

Quantum (and Classical) Physics with Non-Hermitian Operators (PHHQP13) conference

SOCIAL EVENTS

Sunday July 27th

18:00 – Reception at the IIAS lobby

Wednesday July 30th

14:00 - Guided tour of the Old City and the Ir David (City of David) excavations. A bus will leave from the campus gate at 14:00.
After the tour the bus will take you back to the hotel.

20:30 – Conference dinner at Modern restaurant in the Israel Museum in Jerusalem: http://modernen.conceptsite.co.il/sitefiles/1/6351/48048.asp
Directions to the restaurant from the hotel can be found on the map below.

Other attraction near the IIAS:

The National Library – Located within a short walking distance of the IIAS and is the home of many interesting historical writings. Amongst them are the complete writings of Albert Einstein and writings of Isaac Newton. You can find more information in the following link:
http://web.nli.org.il/sites/nli/english/Pages/default.aspx
The Israel Museum – the home of many historical works of art and archaeological artifacts. There also resides the Shrine of the Book where you will find the Dead Sea Scrolls.

For more information on the Shrine of the Book:
http://www.english.imjnet.org.il/page_899

For more information about the museum:
http://www.english.imjnet.org.il

Traveling:
By bus – from the campus gate, buses number: 14,9,7
By foot –